Good practices

- The university's efforts to promote "Tomoiki Liberal Arts Education" as a unique and distinctive feature of the university are highly commendable.
- It is commendable that the "Parent Portal Function" of the academic support system has been established to enable parents to check students' course status and grades online.
- It is commendable that the university is sharing information with parents by posting contents for parents on the university's career support website.
- It is commendable that the career support system is well developed, including career support and job fairs specifically for athletic club members.
- The prompt implementation of the "Emergency Study Support Grant" for all current students as emergency assistance following the spread of the new type of coronavirus infection, and the "Payment to Support Persons with Sudden Changes in Household Finances" in response to the decrease in income of the main breadwinner is highly commendable.
