Good practices

- New entrants are introduced to the founding principles and so on by videos shown at the entrance ceremony, and there is also an opportunity for the President to express them in person on the required course of Sustainable Society Theory, and continuous communication on the founding principles is thus conducted with attending students. These initiatives are worthy of evaluation.
- In the Department of Nursing, Faculty of Nursing, faced with difficulties in securing human resources, SP (Simulated Patients) have been introduced. By conducting seminars with clinical practical training as close as possible to reality, high educational effects are being achieved. This initiative is worthy of high evaluation.
- In addition to the university-wide internships, internships tailored to the specialties of departments and faculties are being implemented such as the Department of Nutrition, Faculty of Nutrition's Food and Nutrition Internships and the Department of Education, Faculty of Education's Children Internships and Overseas Internships. This initiative is worthy of evaluation.
- On the Sustainable Society Theory liberal arts education course, students in classes held jointly among the three departments study using active learning, and SDGs are linked in with the various themes of specialist education being studied in these departments. This initiative is worthy of evaluation.
- The university eagerly offers its original research subsidies based on the condition of obtaining external funding such as Grants-in-Aid for Scientific Research, and research subsidies for graduate school students. This initiative is worthy of evaluation.
